

Alliance Paradigm vs Grand Design Solitude — Both Premium, One Wins

Same price tier. Same target buyer. Wildly different build philosophies. Two crappy RVs enter. One leaves less-crappy.

Round one — frame. Alliance Lippert. Grand Design Lippert. Same supplier. Tie.

Round two — slide mechanisms. Both Schwintek and hydraulic options. Both have documented failures in owner forums. Tie.

Round three — customer service when it breaks. This is where they diverge. Grand Design has a longer track record. Alliance is younger, scrappier, and the owner has historically picked up the phone.

Round four — resale. Pull KBB for both, three years out. Solitude holds value better. Numbers don't care about your feelings.

THE BOTTOM LINE

Less-crappy verdict — Solitude wins on resale, Paradigm wins on owner accessibility. Comment which one you'd buy. Next Saturday: travel trailers under thirty grand.
