

Morning Coffee at the Campsite

Five AM. Everyone's asleep. This is the part nobody films.

No defects this morning. No leaks. No phone calls. Just this.

I started this channel angry. Eight years of broken rigs will do that. But every morning I do this, I remember why we're still out here.

If you're an RVer who's had a rough month — pour one. Sit. Don't post. Don't scroll. Just sit. The lifestyle isn't broken. The industry is.

THE BOTTOM LINE

See you tomorrow.
