

Five Sunsets That Made the Headaches Worth It

Eight years of this. Hundreds of campsites. Five sunsets I'll never forget. Here they are.

Mojave, 2018. The night my wife said she'd marry the lifestyle even if it broke us.

Glacier National Park, 2019. The night the bears walked through our camp and we hid in the rig like idiots.

Outer Banks, 2021. The night I started writing CrappyRV in my head.

Big Bend, 2023. The night the first Alliance broke down for the eighty-seventh time and we laughed because what else.

Last week. Right here. The night I realized this channel is going to outlive my rig. Both rigs.

THE BOTTOM LINE

The industry tried to break the lifestyle. The lifestyle won. See you tomorrow.
