

Why I Won't Recommend a Single Brand

I get the question every day. 'David, what RV should I buy?' I don't answer. Here's why.

Every brand has defects. Every brand has lawsuits. Every brand has owners with stories that would terrify you. If I recommend brand X — and your unit is the lemon — I'm responsible for your trauma. I won't do that.

What I'll do instead — teach you to shop. How to inspect. What to ask. Which questions reveal which brand patterns. Then you choose. Your money. Your rig. Your call.

The buyer's checklist on my website — free. Use it. Bring it to any dealer. Ten questions that filter out ninety percent of the worst rigs.

Some sponsored creators will name their favorite brand every video. They're not lying — they sold their soul, so the brand they recommend is the brand they're paid to recommend. You can do better than that.

I don't have a 'best brand.' I have a 'how to find the best version of any brand for you.' Different game.

THE BOTTOM LINE

Get the checklist at crappyrv.com slash buyers-guide. Email goes to me at hey at crappyrv dot com if you have questions before signing.